

APR 30 1966

Deadline Club Elects McQuiddy

The Deadline Club, the New York City Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism society, elected Arthur McQuiddy, United States Steel Corporation, as president at a dinner April 18. He succeeds Thomas P. Coleman, Associated Press.

Other officers elected were: Jesse C. Bogue, United Press International; Robert R. Metz, Newspaper Enterprise Association, and Joseph L. Oppenheimer, Standard & Poor's Corporation, vicepresidents; Thomas C. Abbott, General Motors Corporation, secretary; William Mullane, American Telephone & Telegraph Co., assistant secretary; Russell Wilks Jr., Charles Pfizer & Co., reporting secretary; John A. Crone, honorary secretary; Frank Latham, Look magazine, editor of Deadliner; Charles Speaks, editorial consultant, treasurer; Robert H. Jones, General Electric Co., assistant treasurer.

New members added to the Executive Council are Thomas P. Coleman, Associated Press, chairman; Norton Mockridge, New York World-Telegram & Sun; John Luter, Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism; Lawrence F. Mihlon, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey); Don A. Schanche,

Holiday Magazine.

Hilarious sports stories were related at the dinner by "Red" Smith, New York Herald Tribune Sports columnist; Jimmy Cannon, New York Journal-American sports columnist, and Willard Mullin, New York World-Telegram & Sun sports cartoonist.